

Information Day 22 of September 2008

The aim of this information day is to provide an overview of the new North Sea Programme for 2007-2013. It will include a session looking at opportunities within the 4 priorities through a series of workshops. This event is aimed at anyone interested in finding out more information on the Transnational Programme and would be a useful introduction to those attending the North Sea Programme energy event the following day, which will have partners from across the North Sea region attending, with the view of developing transnational energy projects through the Programme.
